

CLASS OF '13 JOINS RANKS OF ALUMNI

Nine Hundred Men and Women Receive University Diplomas at Madison

HUNDREDS ATTEND CONVOCATION

Most Impressive Part of Ceremony Is Singing of Farewell Hymn by
the Class

Alma Mater, kindly mother,
Unto thee our song we raise—
Thee to whom, as to no other,
Songs are due and love and praise.
Fountain of our best aspirations,
Nurse of men, and source of might,
May we yield, at Thy requiring,
Deeds of power and thoughts of light.

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—Out on the June air, through the windows of the University of Wisconsin gymnasium today floated the farewell to their university of nine hundred men and women, but a moment before the senior class. Inside, the newest of the old grads—the class of 1913—joined the ranks of the alumni.

March to Gymnasium

The simple ceremonies began at 9 o'clock when, led by the university faculty, headed by President Charles Van Hise, the board of regents and by members of the classes of '63
and '88, the capped and gowned sensors marched slowly to the gymnasium for their convocation.

Hundreds of visitors from all parts of the United States, relatives and friends of the graduates, assembled at 9:30 o'clock to hear the commencement addresses. The college of agriculture was represented by George Wentwain of Manitowoc, the college of engineering by John E.
Mansold of Milwaukee and the law school by Harold M. Wilkie of Fond du Lac. President Van Hise delivered the commencement address and presented the diplomas. Rev. E. G.
Uphike of the Madison Congregational church acted as chaplain and the Bach orchestra furnished the music.

Farewell Hymn Impassive
Probably the most impressive part of the ceremony was the singing of the farewell commencement hymn,
just after the presentation of diplomas. Standing, the class sang, while the minds of the listening graduates went back to their own commencements, and the undergraduates looked forward to culmination of their college careers.

Following the commencement came a public concert and the annual reception to the graduating class and alumni at the home of the president.

Tonight will come the annual alumni reception and ball at the gymnasium.

HARTMAN FUNERAL TODAY
The funeral of Mrs. Lena Hartman was held this morning at 9 o'clock from the residence, 906 South Second street. Burial was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

RUSSIAN PRINCESS WON'T ABANDON CAREER FOR SECOND CLASS TICKET

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Russian government will have to produce something better than a second-class ticket if it expects to drag Princess Olga Goltzine back to the czar's court and away from America, and her ambitions to become an actress. The princess was traced here by Russian secret agents after she had fled from her husband, Prince Goltzine and having pawned all of her jewels in order to keep going, she consented to return to her home country.
According to the arrangements made the princess was to sail early today on the Cunard liner Campania, but there came the hitch.
When the Russian consul sent the steamship ticket to Princess Olga's apartment and she found it was for a second-class passage,
she rebelled.

"I am not so far gone that my wealthy government can send me home second class," the princess declared. "I will not go." And she didn't.

BLACK AND YELLOW TRAIL AGENT HERE

Immigration Commissioner
John Deets of Dakota
Boosts Proposed
Auto Highway

Mr. John Deets, immigration commissioner of South Dakota, called on city officials and members of the board of trade today in an attempt to awaken interest in La Crosse in the Chicago, Black Hills and Yellowstone Park Highway association
which is planning an automobile
drive from Chicago to the Yellowstone park. According to the plan outlined by the association the road
will eventually become part of one of the four or five trans-continental auto routes which will be built and maintained by the government within the next two years.

Through La Crosse

The automobile drive will commence in Chicago, go to Milwaukee, Madison, Elroy, La Crosse, Winona
and then straight west to Mankato,
New Ulm, Tracy, Watertown, S. D., Pierre, Aberdeen and to the Yellowstone park, through the Black Hills via Deadwood. The route will be marked by black and yellow blazers
and it will be called the "Black and Yellow Trail."

Mr. Deets announced today that Ben M. Wood of Rapid City, chairman of the committee, which will mark the trail, has decided to take the committee and representatives of every city on the route over the trail
leaving Chicago probably August 18.
Short stops will be made by the auto
caravan in all the towns and cities
along the way to arouse interest in the work. It is the tentative plan to hold an open air mass meeting in La Crosse when the visitors reach this city. Speeches will be made by noted road experts and a general boosting program will be undertaken.

$3,000,000 for Winona Roads

Commissioner Deets said today that he had been told at Winona by a county official that Winona county is preparing to lay 96 miles of cement road at a total expense of about $3,000,000. The work will begin this summer. He declared that he had been told that the mile of cement road laid in Winona county
last year was an unqualified success
and that county officials are enthusiastic over the new method of road building.

Mr. Deets left at noon to visit towns on the proposed route in the eastern part of the state.

WRECK KILLS ENGINEER

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 18.—
One man was killed, three others will die and eight suffered severe injuries today when a north bound Lake Shore passenger train crashed into a work train on a siding just north of this city. Engineer Huenyult of Elkhart, Ind., was instantly killed. The injured were rushed to Kalamazoo hospitals.

CARNEGIE OPENS PEACE DISCUSSION

Reported Iron-master Is to Pave Way for Angli-
German-American
Pact

TORONTO, Ont., June 18.—The Toronto Star published the following dispatch today: "London, England, June 18.—It was stated today on the best authority that the conference on Monday of Andrew Carnegie with Emperor Wilhelm of Germany had far more international significance
than generally supposed. Carnegie had official credentials of Great Brittain and United States to make commencement of negotiations to form a triple alliance of peace between these three great nations to establish and ensure peace of the civilized world.
"It was believed when King George attended the recent royal nuptials in Berlin he opened the way for Carnegie's representations for two great Anglo-Saxon nations. According to report, the proposal is in the form of a ten-year agreement,
which will materially lessen proposed increases in armament and guarantee peace and good will between Germany, Great Britain and the United States."

MINE PROBES GO BACK TO CAPITAL

Martine Trouble Cause of Decision; Gives Committee Members Much
Worry

BY JOHN ERWIN NEVIN.
(Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 18.—
The senate probe of the West Virginia mine strike and the civil war conditions that have existed in the Paint and Cabin creek regions for more than a year will be transferred to Washington. The three members of the subcommittee, Senator Swanson, Kenyon and Martine, will leave here late tonight and the inquiry will be completed in the capitol. The nearest fight between Senator Martine, Operator Quinn Morton and the attorneys for the operators, is chiefly responsible because it had not occurred at least one member of the committee would have been authorized to remain here and gather up loose ends of evidence.

The operators plan to make the Martine attitude one of their strongest points. When the hearing is resumed in Washington, they intend to introduce written statements by the New Jersey senator and oral declarations made by him assailing them
and demand that the full senate committee recognize that one of the subcommittee, supposedly impartial, emphatically condemned the mine owners before a single shred of evidence in their favor had been introduced.
This development is causing real concern to the other members of the subcommittee here.

PHONE STRIKE CRISIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 18.—The crisis is expected today in the strike
of the operators of the Southwestern (Bell) Telegraph and Telephone company when it will be ascertained
whether the girls who worked yesterday and were sent to their homes
in automobiles will return to the exchanges. The telephone company has several hundred out of town
women housed in leading down town hotels ready to take the positions of the striking operators.

PREDICT KANAWHA STRIKE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 18.—
A strike in the newly organized
New river field followed by a walkout in the Kanawha field, where a strike of years' duration was recently settled, was the prediction of delegates gathered at Beckley today for the first meeting of the new district
No. 29, which embraces the New river field. The delegates are expected to decide the calling of a strike at today's session.

FIRE HALTS WEDDING

JERICHO, Wis., June 18.—Women and children were trampled under foot and one man seriously injured when sixty panic-stricken wedding guests fled from the barn of Adolph Lentze, when fire broke out early today in an adjoining stable.
The guests were dancing in the barn.
The stable was destroyed and fifteen horses for the most part those of the wedding guests were incinerated.

DIES IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 18.—
Mrs. E. J. Fuller, 134 East Johnson street, Madison, Wis., was stricken with a hemorrhage while walking with her husband on Grand avenue here shortly before noon today. She was removed to her room at the Pinkerton hotel, where she died
within a few minutes.

MARTINIQUE HAS QUAKE

SAINT PIERRE, Martinique, June 18.—Persons in all parts of the island were terrified by a severe earthquake early today but no loss of life or property has been reported. Some were sure that the rumbling proceeded from the direction of Mount Pe-lee, but this was not verified.

PAROLED; STEALS; GOES BACK

RACINE, Wis., June 18.—George Bushman, 16, out on parole from the Industrial school at Waukesha, was sent back to the institution this morning after being turned out by his mother because he robbed her in order to get money with which to buy cartridges for his gun.

MASKED YEGGS FAIL IN TRAIN HOLD-UP

Try Two Hours in Vain to Blow the Express
Safe; Then
Escape

PASSENGERS ARE UNMOLESTED

Policeman Who Came Too Close Is Disarmed
and Held by Bandits

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 18.—After six hours of fruitless search today, Sheriff Mester and his deputies returned to the city with no definite clue to the two bandits who held up
the Diamond special of the Illinois Central early today a few miles south of Springfield.

After wrecking the safe with dynamite but failing to penetrate it,
the bandits, who had forced the crew
to uncouple the engine and express car from the coaches, took the engine into the heart of Springfield
and there abandoned it.

Get Bag With $400

The extent of the robbers' haul is not definitely known. They found a bag containing checks and money amounting to about $400. Had they penetrated the safe it is believed they would have found nearly $20,- 000. The American Express company would make no statement as to the amount in the safe, which was at once forwarded to Chicago.

The police found a pair of gloves,
some sticks of dynamite and some checks from the bag in a field half a mile from the track.

The police made one arrest. A sixteen year old boy was found hiding
in the toolbox on top of a coal car.
He was frightened, but said he knew nothing of the robbery, though he heard the explosions.

Disarm a Cop

This arrest was made after one of the bandits had disarmed a full grown policeman and had lined him up with the crew alongside of the engine. They took the policeman's gun, watch and chain and purse.

Evidently in an attempt to discourage bloodhounds, the robbers
scattered red pepper along their trail. This served as the most effective guide for the police, who carried the trail for some distance
and finally lost it.

Express Firm Sends Posse

CHICAGO, June 18.—Officials of the American Express company,
on learning of the train robbery near Springfield, gathered together a squad of detectives today and sent them to Springfield to join in the hunt.

The police believe that the robbers were Chicago men and that they would be arrested before night.

Five hundred dollars was secured
by the Springfield train robbers, according to an official announcement made today by Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central.
Markham announced that a reward
of $1,000 would be paid for the capture and conviction of each of the robbers. Half of this sum will be paid by the railroad company and half by the American Express company.

MADISON TO HAVE SUNDAY CLOSING

District Attorney Declares
He Will See that the Saloons Are Quiet
After July

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—"After July 1 the saloons will be closed on Sunday," District Attorney Nelson
said yesterday afternoon. "There would be no use in getting after the saloon keepers now for the violation last Sunday and for the one that is likely to occur next Sunday. They would simply postpone the cases until after July 1 when their licenses expire."

By July 1, however, we expect to get the mayor in sympathy with us," Mr. Nelson said. "If he isn't then we will call on the police to do their duty and see what they do."
"By that time we will have plenty of evidence of law violation, enough people having promised to back me
in this fight to make sure of that,"
Mr. Nelson concluded.

When informed yesterday afternoon that the sheriff or his deputies were liable to a fine for permitting saloons in this city to remain open on Sundays in violation of the state law, Sheriff Erdahl admitted that he was surprised and that he did not know of the existence of that statute. Instead he seemed to believe that the conduct of a saloon was tempered only by the city ordinances.

ASTOR HORSE WINS

LONDON, June 18.—W. W. Astor's Pilliwinkle the $5,000 event of the royal racing meet at Ascot Heath, Major Lodgers Augar was second and Sir J. Willoughby's Janson, was third. King George's horse, Anmer, the same that the suffrageite, Miss Emily Davison threw in the Epsom Downs Derby, ran but was not placed.

MOTHER-IN-LAW BEATS BRIDE IN A FIGHT OVER HER SON'S PATRIMONY

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 18.—Walter L. Hanson, 24 year old youth who married Henrietta Reuttl, vaudeville actress and immediately got into trouble with his mother, Mrs. Aimee L. Hanson of Brooklyn and Saratoga, has come out second best in the first legal bout with his parent as a result of his marriage.

The younger Mrs. Hanson resisted the efforts of the mother to prevent the young husband obtaining $50,000 left to him by his grandfather, but a jury returned a verdict against Hanson, declaring him an incompetent by reason of habitual drunkenness. In addition to the $5,000 which Hanson might have received, some other disposition may be made of $350,000 from the Leland Stanford estate which he will inherit at the death of his mother. Mrs. Hanson is a niece of Mrs. Stanford.

Young Hanson sued his mother after his marriage to regain the $50,000 which he had given her to keep for him, but she filed an application to have him declared incompetent to manage his affairs.

WEST SALEM MAN KILLED IN WEST

Will Capper Shot in Quarrel Over Woman in Kansas City; Buried in Burns Cemetery

WEST SALEM, Wis., June 18.—
(Special.)—The body of Will Capper, son of Mrs. James Capper of this city, arrived here yesterday afternoon from Kansas City, Mo. Capper was killed in a quarrel over a woman according to advices received by residents of this city. His slayer was also badly wounded and is said to be near death in a hospital
in Kansas City.

The shooting occurred Saturday night. Capper was shot through the lung, and died soon after.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon. Burial took place in the town of Burns cemetery. Capper's father, James Capper, has been dead
several years. He was a mail carrier here for many years.

Capper is survived by a wife and three children in Chippewa Falls. He was 38 years old.

HUNT LADY BURGLAR

MILWAUKEE, June 18.—Milwaukee police today are looking for a lady burglar. Leo Vogel, a tailor, who used a tin can for a safe, reported this morning that his savings of close to a hundred dollars,
had been stolen. Nine willow plumes,
valued at $60, also were missing
from a neighboring millinery establishment. The authorities think a woman committed the theft.

TO CALL LOVETT

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The senate met this afternoon. They passed unanimously a resolution introduced by Senator Norris of Nebraska, instructing the senate lobby by investigating commission to call
R. S. Lovett, head of the Harriman railroad system to prove Lovett's
statement that he had powerful lobby assistance by persons claiming to be close to the legislators.

HUNT MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 18.—A relief expedition has left Tanana
to search for Archdeacon Stuck and his Mount McKinley exploration expedition, according to word received from there today. The party started following the receipt of news from the Indian left in charge of Stuck's supply camp at the base of the mountain that he had no word from the party since early in April.

WAUKESHA MAN ARRESTED

Frank White of Waukesha was arrested by Detective W. H. Fitzsimmons shortly before noon today and will be sent to Waukesha to stand trial on a charge of larceny. White was arrested on a meager description sent by Sheriff E. J. Gibson. He has been employed for the last three weeks by a local painter under the name of Frank Murphy.

VESSELS COLLIDE

BOSTON, June 18.—A wireless message received here today reported the collision of the Warren line
freighter Sagamore from Liverpool and the fishing schooner Olympic of Gloucester, near Sable Island over the Nova Scotia coast. The message did not state the condition of the vessels, or whether anyone was injured.

UNKNOWN MOLDER KILLED

RACINE, Wis., June 18.—An unknown man, evidently a molder, was run down and killed Tuesday night
by passenger train on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad a block north of the station here. The crew failed to notice the accident and the mangled body was not discovered until the train had pulled out again.

STORM HITS MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, June 18.—Several houses were struck by lightning and numerous small fires started by the electrical storm which swept Milwaukee just after daybreak today. A high wind blew down trees and several telephone poles. No one was injured.

on House Ways and

ALSO AGITATED TO RAISE TARIFF

Even Attempted to Dictate
the Personnel of the Philippine Commission

WASHINGTON, June 18.—An astounding series of letters laying bare
in cold phrases and matter of fact words the methods of the sugar protection interests to have a hand in legislation enacted in Washington was revealed this afternoon when the senate lobby investigating committee made public the mass of letters at the headquarters here of the beet sugar producers' association.

Scores of Letters

There were scores of letters and carbon copies. They covered not only the fight to keep sugar tariffs
up to a high protection rate, but personnel of the Philippine commission, of the ways and means committee of the house and other matters. These communications were dated in 1907.
They dissected public men, classified legislators and spoke of control
"we" exercised in congressional communities and "our candidates."

On October 7, 1907, H. P. Oxnard
at Chicago received the following letter from Washington (no signature
on carbon copy):

With Uncle Joe

"Wakeman was with 'Uncle Joe'
for four hours and feels that he accomplished something, but he did not feel at liberty to tell me much in detail. From here he went to Cincinnati at Foraker's request, then to Cleveland and back to New York. He is leaving no stone unturned in his effort to get real protectionists on the committee on ways and means to fill the five vacancies. He is certain that Fortney of Michigan, for one,
will be appointed, but did not mention any other name. His advice is that we have many business and manufacturing concerns write to the speaker as possible and without mentioning or suggesting any names,
urge that real protectionists be placed on the ways and means committee."

INDICT FOUR EDITORS

SEATTLE, Wash., June 18.—Four local editors were indicted for criminal libel by the grand jury today.
They are: Leroy Sanders, editor of the Seattle Star; Alden and C. B.
Blethen, editor and manager of the Times, and Edward Clayton, editor of the Weekly Patriot.

The men were accused of publishing libels during a recent investigation of charges of grafting in county affairs.

FIREMEN MEET

MONROE, Wis., June 18.—Five hundred firemen arrived in Monroe
at noon today on a special train, the advance guard of the crowd coming here for the annual Wisconsin Firemen's tournament to be held three days beginning today. A ball game, between the Madison and Stoughton firemen's nines, opened the tournament this afternoon.

Overrule Protest

After an hour's executive session,
however, the committee voted to overrule the attorney's protest and to continue reading the letters.

"Oxnard and Palmer have testified that for thirty years they have been active against free sugar." Chairman Overman stated. "These letters are corroborative of their testimony and are therefore admissible as evidence."

John W. Yerkes, attorney for Henry T. Oxnard and Truman G. Palmer, held that under the language of the resolution empowering the lobby
probe, the committee could investigate only the lobbying against the present tariff bill; that lobbying against other tariff bills was not authorized. In this way he argued the committee had no right to read letters dated as far back as 1906.

Ransdell to Object

It was understood that Senator Ransdell will hold the bringing of the sugar lobby's correspondence before the committee to be a violation of constitutional privileges; that the senate sergeant at arms exceeded his authority under the subpoena duces
tecum in seizing papers not specifically called for in the writ. Only a few letters were read prior to the executive session. These told of attempts to influence campaign counsels and throw further light on the sugar interests' publicity methods.

One telegram, dated February 19,
1912, sent to F. A. Gillespie at Garden City, Kas., and signed by C. C.

Short Story

ENCOURAGING KATE

By MABEL CHASE ENGLAND

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Jack Renslaw, in swimming costume, walked down the bathing pier of the famous seashore resort and joined the group on the end. Viva Hartley's eyes gleamed exultantly under their lowered lashes. Renslaw was something of a lion, in his way, and since his first appearance in the place it had been her secret ambition to attach him to her train, but he had seemed curiously indifferent. She immediately challenged him to beat her in the art of high diving, and the two engaged in a laughing competition.

"Why doesn't your cousin come out and try it?" asked Renslaw presently, looking contemplatively toward the unattractive and lonely figure wading about in the shallow water near shore. Miss Hartley's open neglect of the girl whom her mother had invited out of kindness had incensed him from the first. "Hasn't she learned to dive?"

Viva looked her astonishment. "Oh, no; Kate never does anything. She's rather stupid about sports, I believe."

"Perhaps she needs encouragement," suggested Renslaw. A whimsical notion had taken him. It might be interesting to try what the lavishing of a little attention and interest would do for the girl, so plainly left out in the cold by all of Viva's crowd. "I'll go over there and see if I can get her to try swimming."

As he swam off toward the lonely figure near shore Viva Hartley sent after him a swift look of mingled amazement and anger, then turned back to her companions with a mocking lift of the brows.

Painfully different, Kate Cameron shrank nervously at Renslaw's approach.

"Miss Cameron," he announced smilingly, "I'm going to insist on teaching you to swim. Have you tried it at all?"

"N-no," she admitted, "I—I don't think I'd care about it. And I'm just going in," she added, turning, then facing about again, miserably irresolute.

"Indeed you are going to do nothing of the kind," he told her, with pleasant authority. "Come, I'll hold you up and teach you the strokes. You mustn't talk or even think of anything else."

Commanded not to talk, Kate's nervousness in large measure vanished. It had long been her secret ambition to learn to swim like Viva.

"You've done remarkably well," he told her kindly. "After a few more lessons you'll be swimming in deep water."

"Oh, thank you," stammered Kate, "it's very good of you, but—but I couldn't think of troubling you again."

"Nonsense!" he laughed. "By the way, shall you be at the dance to-night?"

"Oh I—don't—know," she hesitated. "Aunt likes me to go, but I don't care for dancing, and so I just sit there, you know."

Renslaw refrained from urging and gently helped her up the little ladder that hung by the pier, waving her a smiling adieu.

She finished rather breathlessly. Her fear of boring people, frayed to acute sensitiveness by the frank restlessness and inattention of the few men she had come in contact with, amounted almost to an obsession.

But, as he expected, the evening found her at the dance. He went at once to the corner where she was seated with her aunt and dropped into a vacant seat beside her. She surrendered her program.

"I see you stand firmly by your conviction that you don't care for dancing," he said as he attached his name to four of the waltzes.

"The next dance was theirs, and when it was over Renslaw led her to a cozy nook under some palms and sat down beside her.

"For one who dislikes dancing you do it remarkably well," he said, his eyes laughing down at her.

Kate flushed. "That was not true," she confessed bravely. "I—I love dancing. But men don't—they won't."

She stopped in confusion and her lower lip trembled slightly. A warm rush of pity swept over Renslaw.

"My dear child," he comforted, "don't you know it's simply because every one thinks you don't care for it? I think you will find that, having once been seen dancing, you will have as many requests as you care about."

And indeed several men, who had seen and marked Renslaw's devotion, now sauntered up. For Renslaw was credited with rather a nice discrimination in regard to the gentler sex, and, as he well knew, it would not be because Kate Cameron had been seen dancing, but because she had been seen dancing with him, that further requests would be forthcoming.

Toward the end of the evening he stood and watched her as she floated round the room on the arm of Graham, his most intimate friend.

"We'll outwit that cousin of hers yet," muttered Renslaw.

In the days that followed he took on himself the province of "big brother" and lectured her freely when occasion arose. Most of all he insisted on various outdoor activities. And indeed within a few weeks she had developed a passion for sports and an amazing celerity in acquiring perfection in each that surprised and delighted Renslaw. Dawn interest began to appear in men's faces when they spoke of her. Several paid her noticeable attention. Graham, Renslaw noticed, grew to be one of the most assiduous.

He himself, having launched her, kept as much as possible in the background. Nevertheless he could not be unconscious that the preference was always his, that her engagements were held subject to his wish for her company at any possible time or for any occasion. This began to trouble him.

If such a thing had really happened, that she cared for him, what ought he to do? He had grown unaccountably fond of this girl that he had taken under his protection, but marriage—that was another matter. However, his sense of honor was keen. As he tramped the moors fighting the question in his mind, he decided that if such a thing had happened the fault was entirely his. He would offer himself simply, sincerely, and if Kate Cameron had unwittingly given her heart into his keeping he would do all in his power to make up to her for the love she must never know he had failed to give.

The next evening there was a dance—the last of the season. Midnight found him in a secluded corner, Kate Cameron beside him. She stood leaning on the balcony railing, her chin in her hands, looking out over the moonlit radiance of the sea. A curious thrill ran through him at the thought of what he was about to say to her.

"Mr. Renslaw, there is something I want to tell you."

"Yes," he smiled almost tenderly. "Yes," he said again.

"Last night Mr. Graham asked me to marry him."

She did not look at him as she spoke but remained motionless.

So it was Graham! Renslaw stood, gazing at her. What a blatant egotist he had been! He looked at her and a fierce, hot rebellion surged up within him. With a sudden, blinding realization he knew, too late, that he loved her.

A slight movement beside him brought him back to the fact that she had spoken.

"Yes?" he said, gently. "Thank you for telling me, Kate. And you love him, of course? You will be very happy."

"Oh, no!" There was a note of surprise, almost of distress, in her voice.

"I told you because I wanted to ask you if you thought I had been to blame. I didn't mean—I never intended to let him think—"

He had her hands in his caught in a grasp that hurt.

"Kate!" His voice broke for a moment. "Tell me, Kate," he commanded, "is there any one whom you love?"

Her eyes fell.

"Look at me, Kate."

She raised her eyes. Slowly, wonderingly, a look of radiant, ineffable joy dawned in her face.

"You love me," she whispered; "you!"

"I!" he mocked tenderly. She was in his arms now. "Oh, Kate, Kate!" he whispered; "you wonder of the world."

SELLS MARSH LAND FOR $33 AN ACRE

GRANTSBURG, Wis., June 13.—The largest land deal ever made in this section of the state has just been closed, the Cretex Carpet company of New York having purchased 11,000 acres of twine grass producing marsh land from L. C. Erbes. The land lies immediately north of this place and the price paid was $33 an acre or a total of $363,000 for the tract.

This will be the heaviest twine grass shipping point in the northwest.

The state of Wisconsin has sold thousands of acres of this land at $1.25 an acre and less.

MILWAUKEE GETS POSITION ABROAD

Mr. Utter, who is universally recognized as a scientific farmer, is also an authority on the use of potash and nitrate as fertilizer and is considered to be equipped to thoroughly handle the fertilizing lectures for the German concern in the field assigned him, which will be on the Pacific coast, with headquarters in San Francisco.

I WAS BADLY BLOATED

I Could Not Get My Shoes on, My Feet and Legs were so Swollen.

Dropsy is usually caused by organic disease. It may be the heart, or liver, or kidneys. Sometimes the lungs. But there is a form of dropsy that is caused by thin blood. The serum of the blood exudes into the tissues, causing dropsy. It is a very serious condition sometimes, but there is much more prospect of relief, since there is no organic disease behind it. The blood is thin for want of proper assimilation of food. The digestion may be poor. In these cases Peruna is a very excellent remedy.

Read what Mrs. Randall says: "I have been a sufferer from Bright's disease nearly six years; also chronic catarrh for a much longer time. One doctor said there was no help for me."

"Then I wrote the Peruna Medical department. My body was badly bloated and my feet were so swollen on. Now the swelling is gone and I feel as if there were pins piercing my feet. I stepped on my feet and I felt as if there were pins piercing my feet. I stepped on my feet and I felt as if there were pins piercing my feet."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

MOTHERS' PENSION BILL ENGROSSED

Measure Advanced Toward Passage Is Substantially the Rosa Law

MADISON, Wis., June 13.—The new mothers' pension bill, which is substantially the Rosa bill, with the provision added that the board of control shall approve of the expenditure made under the measure, was ordered engrossed yesterday morning in the assembly.

The bill is more properly a child aid or home aid bill, since aid is not limited to widows or statutory widows, but to homes having children. Aid is granted by juvenile courts where they exist, otherwise by municipal and county judges.

It is left optional with each county whether or not to operate under the plan. If it elects to come under the law, the state will pay to the county one-half of the sum expended, not to exceed, however, one dollar for every thirty inhabitants of the county.

The sum of $75,000 is appropriated for the purpose and $5,000 to the state board of control to make a survey of the whole field.

EAGLES' CARNIVAL TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Next Monday the big Eagles' Carnival will open with a bursting of mirth and music. All of the many hundreds of minor arrangements have been taken care of and all is in readiness for the Wortham and Allen United shows when they arrive on Sunday evening.

The ladies of the Eagles will operate a country store where one may purchase almost anything from a bar of soap to a washing machine. This is a new innovation and should be well patronized during the week. The local merchants have donated many hundreds of articles to the Eagles and these will make part of the country store stock.

The contest will close in a few days and the standing may be obtained each day in the Doerflinger store and Frye Shoe company windows. The contest is now getting more lively, and is creating much interest.

LIGHTNING STRIKES FENDER OF AUTO

SPARTA, Wis., June 13.—A strange experience came to Manager McGriffin of the American Cigar company, and his family and the chauffeur, named Dorr, Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, during a storm, when they were returning from the U. C. T. picnic at La Crosse.

The party was coming up the Gherke hill just east of the Big Creek mill when a bolt of lightning, which was seen from this city and the thunderous echo of which was heard for nearly twenty miles around, struck the fender at the rear of the car, ran toward the front of the car along the foot board and over the radiator and in some manner grounded itself.

The car was enveloped in a great flame and the occupants in the rear seat were unable to see the occupants in the front seat for a moment. But aside from a severe fright and a terrible experience, they were unharmed. Their escape was miraculous and is probably due to the fact that the rain that had been falling had coated the car with water which made a good conductor and carried the lightning into the ground. The chauffeur distinctly felt the effect of the shock and was undoubtedly saved from severe injury by the gloves he wore as he could feel the tremor of the bolt in the steering wheel.

Good Roads Picnic

There was a large attendance at the Good Roads picnic in the town of Angelo yesterday. Practically all the representative business men of the city were in attendance and all good roads enthusiasts for miles gathered at the Sias grove to hear the chief clerk of the state highway commission preach the gospel of good roads. John R. Jones, who during his terms as assemblyman, was one of the original and pioneer good roads advocates, was again present and told a few of the experiences of the early enthusiasts, although it was necessary to postpone his son's wedding so that he could be present. John went ahead and made all arrangements to be at the picnic and say a few words to the guests and the date was set for June 17 to suit his convenience. Then on returning home, his wife told him that June 17 was the date of his son's wedding and as the wedding occurred in La Crosse and the picnic in Angelo, John was in a quandary. His enthusiasm for good roads was pitted against his duty as a father and the head of the family. So a compromise was reached and John R. talked road improvements Tuesday and will officiate as father of the groom today.

Plan Special Election

The petition for a special election for the purpose of submitting to the people the question of bonding for street improvements was filed last week and plans for the special election are well under way. City Attorney Rice has drawn the resolution which the council will pass and has also drawn the notice of the special election which must be published, it is said three weeks. The date of the special election has not been definitely set but it is said that the plans are to hold it on Thursday, July 10. Much conflict of opinions exists as to the probable outcome of this election; even as much as exists as to the necessity for bonding. Both the paving enthusiasts and those opposed to the bonds are confident.

Each Plant Has Its Fairy.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Dear Little

Flower Fairies

And Their Work.

It was a nice moonlight night, and as Jack and Evelyn glanced outdoors the latter said sadly:

"The fairies must be just getting up now."

Evelyn wanted to sit up late, but mother did not think it was best.

"The fairies work at night," daddy said reprovingly.

"Why," spoke up Jack, "we thought the fairies danced all night in the grass."

"Sometimes they do, and perhaps some of the fairies dance, but lots of them are just as busy as can be."

A big moth went hurrying by the window.

"Look!" exclaimed daddy. "Perhaps a little fairy was riding on that yellow moth's back, hurrying off to work, you know."

"Tell us about the working fairies," Jack and Evelyn demanded.

Daddy smiled as he glanced out at the garden.

"There are so many of them I couldn't tell about all of them, but I might mention some of the things the little flower fairies are doing."

"You see the little plants standing tall and straight in the flower beds."

"I have heard that every little plant has its own fairy that sleeps in its flower and takes care of the plant. It is the fairy's duty to see that night bugs do not come to live on the leaves or make their homes at the roots of the plant, where they might do it much harm."

"When the warm night mists come down the fairy goes out and shakes the dewdrops out of the mist so that the plant may be kept fresh."

"If the gentle shower comes pattering down the fairy takes care that his plant gets its share of water at the roots so that it has plenty to drink."

"They whisper to the bees and the butterflies that honey and nectar may be found in their plant's flowers, and these come buzzing up with the yellow dust that is needed to make the seeds grow."

"They listen, and when they think they hear a mole nibbling at the roots of the plant they go hurrying down to chase Mr. Mole away."

"When the big storms come along they try to hold them up and keep the wind from blowing them over."

"The fairies stir up the perfume in the flowers so that it is wafted abroad to let all the friendly insects know that it is time to come to the flower's party and sip honey or eat the dainty flower pollen."

"They paint the leaves and the flowers and do many other services for the flowers. I'm sure no one could honestly say that the flower fairies are not busy these days."

COMPLAIN OF OUR IMPROPER PACKING

For many years United States consuls have been sending back word from all over the world that careless packing was causing a prejudice against American goods. The British and German exporters, it has been said, frequently beat out Americans in orders because it is their habit to pack consignments in a way to insure safe delivery.

It is a notorious fact, says the monthly bulletin of the bureau of railway economics, that cotton has been the most slovenly handled of all the agricultural products in the United States. The farmers often have left it exposed to be damaged by rain and infiltrated by mud. All too often it is loosely baled and improperly marked. It has been said that frequently cotton bales look like rag-bags when received at foreign ports. Government experts have estimated that between the gin and the spinner there is an annual waste of $50,000,000.

To the Japanese we owe the impetus for a change in conditions. They signified some time ago that they would not accept cotton that was not clean, securely packed and plainly marked. After a few heavy cotton shipments were turned back on them the steamship lines joined the railroads in the effort the latter had been making for years to have the bales properly prepared for the long voyage. Now as the result of co-operative efforts by the two branches of transportation the farmers are taking care to meet the demands of foreign consignees.

The reform well might extend to all export lines. The fact that for years American goods have arrived at their destination in the worst possible shape is a reflection on national standards of efficiency that we should no longer tolerate.

THE PARCEL POST MAXIMUM

Under the parcel post regulations no package which exceeds in combined length and girth 72 inches can be received for transmission by mail. The dimensions are to be decided by taking as the length the greatest distance in a straight line between the two ends of the bundle, while the girth is the actual measurement by a tape encircling the parcel at its thickest part. Joseph Becker of Arlington, Va., has set for himself the task of finding the shape and dimensions of a package having the largest possible capacity and yet fulfilling the requirements of the postoffice department.

In a letter to the Scientific American Mr. Becker begins his computation with a rod 72 inches long and infinitely thin, a purely mathematical mailing receptacle. He finds that a perfect cube 14.4 inches on a side, having a capacity of 2,985 plus cubic inches, would just be mailable, its girth being 57.6 inches and its length 14.4. But a package 24 inches in length by 12 inches in height and 12 inches in width gives a capacity of 3,456 inches, a gain of 470 plus cubic inches over the perfect cube. This form of package is convenient to handle.

A cylinder of the same length, 24 inches, and restricted to the same girth, Mr. Becker figures to have a volume of almost exactly 4,400 inches. The sphere is ill adapted to parcel post uses; the largest acceptable size would be 17.38 inches in diameter, with a capacity of 2,749 cubic inches or less than the perfect cube. So the patrons of the postoffice should avoid perfect cubes and spheres when they want to go the limit of package size in the postoffice, and always bear in mind that no matter what its shape, no parcel weighing more than 11 pounds will be accepted.

HYGIENE IN THE SCHOOLS

The fourth international congress on school hygiene which meets in Buffalo August 25 to 30, will prove one of the most important gatherings of the summer. The organization committee, which is making the plans for the congress, is working on broad lines.

Contending that school hygiene is important, not only to the child, but to the school, the home and the community as well, the committee is seeking the co-operation of the educators, hygienists, physicians and delegates from every city, town and state in the country. No comprehensive and effective campaign for the extension of modern methods in school hygiene can be carried on without the backing of the people, so it is the endeavor to secure this backing. With the community backing, efficient medical, hygienic and sanitary supervision will result in the schools of the nation.

The results that will follow, and which are the aim of the work to be accomplished at the congress, are these:

For the child: Increased comfort, greater happiness, larger school room success, more safety and greater certainty of future efficiency.

For the school: Fewer absences from the school room, fewer interruptions on account of epidemics, and more satisfactory educational response to class room activities.

For the home: Less anxiety, less apprehension, fewer doctor bills, less work, more health, happiness and prosperity.

For the taxpayer: A saving by more efficient methods in school work, and also a larger product of active, intelligent, capable individuals, whose influence will be toward the improvement of every phase of community life.

For the community: Healthier and, therefore, more efficient and more prosperous citizens.

For the nation: Results measured in terms of the conservation of human life.

Mistook His Man

Enter with the open street cars the end seaters of porcine traits. A little story apropos. The other day a man leaped on the running board of a car and said to a seated passenger: "I see, sir, you have the hog seat."

"Oh, excuse me," was the quick reply, "I was not aware I had your seat. I yield it to you," and he slid along and made room. The new occupant of the "hog" seat flushed, and the passengers smiled audibly. —Boston Transcript.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

After Kipling

The man who starts to argue with a woman is a fool; Though he may be right about it; is always sure to fail. The man who goes a-shopping on a festive bargain day Carries home what he calls bargains and for which he's spent much kale. Then his wife she ridicules him and the sum he's had to pay. For the female of the species can buy cheaper than the male.

The man who drives his motor takes no chances on the thing. And he doesn't pull off dizzy stunts that make police turn pale; But the woman zig-zags here and there and doesn't care a ding. For the female of the species is more reckless than the male.

Unable to Meet the Emergency

Senator and Mrs. Cummins of Iowa went one evening to dine in a Washington restaurant where colored waiters were employed. Mrs. Cummins, after she had taken up the menu, found that she had left her glasses at home, and therefore was unable to read. She handed the senator the card and asked him to order the dinner, but he found that he also had forgotten his glasses.

Were Better Acquainted

Conversing with a coterie of friends the other afternoon, Dr. William Osler told of the rather embarrassing position in which a well-known physician recently placed himself.

Suffered Twenty-One Years --Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. The physicians called it "Mother's Pain" and injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several smaller ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Avoyelles Par. Marksville, La. Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

IN The WORLD OF WOMEN

Miss Anne Morgan and Mrs. Florence Kelly, national secretary of the Consumers' league, were appointed by Governor Sulzer as two of the New York representatives at the first American Congress on Social Insurance in Chicago.

An Australian woman candidate, running on an independent ticket for the National Parliament, polled 10,000 votes to the regular party candidate's 16,000. She is Miss Vida Goldstein, of the Kooyong district, who is endeavoring to break down an existing prejudice against women serving in parliament, to which they are legally eligible.

The Woman's club, Clinton, Iowa, although established less than a year, has already succeeded in having waste paper boxes placed all along its main thoroughfares, and has enlisted the co-operation of the merchants in making a clean town.

Miss Jones's Class

Teachers in an uptown public school are discussing with some merri- ment a recent school incident. One of the boys in Miss Jones's class "got on the nerves" of the teacher by continually grinning and laughing, and finally Miss Jones, her patience exhausted, appealed to the principal. "Send him to me," said the principal. When the boy was ushered before the principal the latter, with all the sternness at his command, lectured him, bringing the discourse to a close with: "Now, there are only two classes which are continually grinning—monkeys and idiots. Which class are you in?" "Miss Jones's class, sir," whimpered the boy.—New York Tribune.

The Melting Of Molly

By Maria Thompson Daviess Author of Selina Lue; Rose of Old Harpeth.

Copyright, 1912, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

I took this missive from Alfred, counted all the fifteen pages, put it out of sight under a book, looked out the window and saw the ginger barber coming dejectedly around to the side gate from the kitchen—I knew the scene he had had with Judy, about the bottle encounters of the night before—saw Mr. Johnson shooed off down the street by Mrs. Johnson; saw the doctor's car go chugging hurriedly in the garage and then my spirit turned itself to the wall and refused to be comforted. I tried my best, but failed to respond to my own remonstrances with myself, and tears were slowly gathering in a cloud of gloom when a blue gingham, rompers-clad sunbeam burst into the room.

"Git your night-gown and your tooth-brush quick, Molly, if you want to pack 'em in my trunk!" he exclaimed with his eyes dancing and a curl standing straight up on the top of his head, as it has a habit of doing when he is most excited. "You can't take nothing but them 'cause I'm going to put in a rope to tie the whale with when I ketch him, and I'll take up all the rest of the room. Git 'em quick!"

"Yes, lover, I'll get them for you, but tell Molly where it is you are going to sail off with her in that trunk of yours?" I asked, dropping into the game as I have always done with him, no matter what game or my own pressed when he called.

"On the ocean where the boats go 'cross and run right over a whale. Don't you remember you showed me them pictures of spout whales in a book, Molly? Doc says they comes right up by the ship and you can hear 'em shoot water and maybe a iceberg, too. Which do you want to ketch most, Molly, a iceberg or a whale?" His eager eyes demanded instant decision on my part of the nature of capture I preferred. My mind quickly reverted to those two ponderous and intense epistles I had got within the hour and I lay back in my chair and laughed until I felt almost merry.

"The iceberg, Billy, every time," I said at last. "I just can't manage whales, especially if they are ardent which word means hot. I like icebergs, or I think I should if I could catch one."

"I don't believe you could, Molly, but maybe Doc will let you put a rope and a long hook in his trunk to try with if your clothes go into mine. His is a heap the biggest anyway and Nurse Tilly said he oughter put my things in his, but I cried and then he went up-stairs and got out that little one for me. Come see 'em!"

"What do you mean, Billy?" I asked, while a sudden fear shot all over me like lightning. "You're just playing go-away, aren't you?"

"No, I ain't playing, Molly!" he exclaimed excitedly. "Me and you and Doc is a-going across the ocean for a long, long time away from here. Doc ast me about it this morning and I told him all right and you could come with us, if you was good. He said couldn't I go without you if you was busy and couldn't come and I told him you would put things down and come if I said so. Won't you, Molly? It won't be no fun without you and you'd cry all by yourself with me gone." His little face was all drawn up with anxiety and sympathy at my lonely estate with him out of it and a cry rose up from my heart with a kind of primitive savagery at what I felt was coming down upon me.

Without waiting to take him with me, or think, or do anything but feel deadly savage anger, I hurried across the garden and into Doctor Moore's office, where he was just laying off his gloves and dust coat.

"What do you mean, John Moore, by darning, darning to think you can go and take Billy away from me?" I demanded looking at him with what must have been such fear and madness in my face that he was startled as he came close to the table against which I leaned. His face had grown white and quiet at my attack and he waited to answer for a long horrible minute that pulled me apart like one of those inquisi-

"I didn't know Billy would tell you so soon, Mrs. Molly," he said at last gently, looking past me out of the window into the garden. "I was coming over just as soon as I got back from this call to talk with you about it, even if it did seem to intrude Billy's and my affairs into a day that—that ought to be all yours to be—happy in. But Billy, you see, is no respecter of—of other people's happy days if he wants them in his."

"Billy's happy days are mine and mine are his and he has the heart not to leave me out even if you would have him!" I exclaimed, a sob gathering in my heart at the thought that my little lover hadn't even taken in a situation that would separate him from me across an ocean.

"Bill is too young to understand when he is—is being bereaved, Molly," he said and still he didn't look at me. "I have been appointed a delegate to represent the State Medical Association at the Centennial Congress in London the middle of next month—and somehow I—feel a bit pulled lately and thought I would take the little chap and have—have a wanderjahr. You won't need him now, Mrs. Peaches, and I couldn't go without him, could I?" The sadness in his voice would have killed me if I hadn't let it madden me instead.

"Won't need Billy any more!" I exclaimed with a rage that made my voice literally scorch past my lips. "Was there ever a minute in his life that I haven't needed Billy? How dare you say such a thing to me? You are cruel, cruel, and I have always known it, cold and cruel like all other men who don't care how they wring the life blood out of women's hearts and are willing to use their children to do it with. Even the law doesn't help us poor helpless creatures and you can take our children and go with them to the ends of the earth and leave us suffering. I have gone on and believed that you were not like what the women say all men are and that you cared whether you hurt people or not, but now I see that you are just the same and you'll take my baby away if you want to—and I can do nothing to prevent it—nothing in the wide world—I am completely and absolutely helpless—you coward, you!"

NORTH SIDE NEWS

ESCH WILL PUSH LEAGUE'S DEMANDS

Will Take Petition Asking Improvement of Black River to Authorities in Washington

That the project instigated by the North Side Progressive league and the citizens' committee of Onalaska, in regard to the deepening of the channel of Black river from LaCrosse to Onalaska and the closing of Hammond Chute, which for several seasons has been the chief bane of motor boatists, can be realized was promised by Congressman J. J. Esch this morning, when he received the communication drafted by the league.

Each season when the law water mark is reached there is hardly enough water in Black river between La Crosse and Onalaska to float the larger motor boats. One reason for this condition is attributed to the water that is drained from Black into the Mississippi through Hammond Chute, and the members of the league are of the opinion that if this were closed there would be sufficient water in Black river.

Congressman Esch promises to take the matter up with the proper authorities at Washington, and with Major C. Keller at Rock Island who has charge of the rivers and harbors in this section. The congressman says that the work on the river could be done out of the general river and harbor appropriation for the rivers in this section.

LEE ACQUITTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Former North Side Real Estate Man Is Freed by Jury in St. Louis

Otto Lee, former north side real estate man who was charged with the embezzlement of $1,200 from the Funk Lumber company of St. Louis, was acquitted of the charge in his trial which ended June 13, according to a letter received from him this morning by friends on the north side.

Mr. Lee was charged with the embezzlement and about thirty days ago an officer from the St. Louis court took him to that city to stand trial. His friends in this city believed his innocence. According to Mr. Lee's letter the jury that tried him was in session only a few minutes after the case against him was finished.

For many years Mr. Lee was employed as bookkeeper in a lumber firm here, and about nine months ago started in the real estate business for himself on Clinton and Avon streets, and at the time of his leaving here he was conducting a thriving business. He intends probably to start in business in St. Louis. His daughter, Olga Lee, who was employed in the same office, left the city today for St. Louis to join her father.

After repeated efforts to find his pet bull dog this morning, Herbert Coolidge, proprietor of a confectionery store at 1820 George street, sent his son out to find the dog. Mr. Coolidge is blind, and the dog is his constant companion at all times.

Mr. Coolidge's son was joined by V. E. White, who had seen a man leading a dog with a rope. They walked from George street to Grand Crossing depot, and White again caught sight of the man. When the man saw that he was being followed he disappeared and let the dog go.

When the dog was returned to his owner, Mr. Coolidge said that he knew his dog would never follow anyone without being forced. The police were called but were unable to apprehend the man.

A man, who would not give his name, made himself very conspicuous this morning in trying to dispose of a stock of brass rings to residents of Kane street. Patrolman August Yehle was called. He escorted the man to the yards of the Burlington nearby and saw him catch a freight train.

The local baseball team defeated the fast Galesville semi-pro team in one of the most exciting games ever played on the local diamond.

The game was featured by heavy hitting and clever fielding. Christopherson, in the box for the locals, had his smoke ball working in fine fashion and his terrific home run drive also contributed to the local's victory.

Apel, occupying the box for the Galesville aggregation, pitched well, but his support was wobbly at times. The game was won and lost several times and not until the last man was out in the ninth inning, was the game decided. When the smoke had cleared from the field in the ninth, the locals had piled up ten runs while the Galesville bunch had managed to push but nine runs over the pan. NORMAL BAND TO GIVE EXCURSION

Steamer St. Paul to Take a Big Crowd to Winona for All Day Jaunt

The biggest excursion crowd of the season is anticipated by the Streckfus steamboat line tomorrow when the normal school band will entertain all comers on the big side-wheel St. Paul, which will leave the levee at 9:20 o'clock for an all day trip to Winona and return. There will be dancing on the floor of the boat, the music being furnished by the brass band and orchestra. Lunch will also be served under the band's auspices, and it is the hope of the boys that sufficient "kale" will be realized to pay off all debts of the organization, floating and otherwise.

The normal school band, under the directorship of President Cotton, who, by the way, can play most any instrument with a mouthpiece, has developed into an organization of which the city may well be proud, and in order to be better equipped for business next fall this excursion is to be held under its auspices. The final whistle will ring at 9:30 a. m. and the boat will return at 7:30 p. m.

In the interclass meet held Monday not all the events on the program were run off and the relay race, mile run and high jump will have their finals this afternoon. Lester Griffin took four firsts in the sprints, his best mark being 10:2 for the hundred. Swancutt took the weight events registering 101 feet in the discus throw, Swancutt, Griffin and Joseph tied for first in the high jump at 5 feet 4 inches. Keyes ran the half mile in 2:20.

CELEBRATE CLASS DAY AT BELOIT

BELOIT, June 18.—Class day, red letter day of all the college courses, second only to the convocation itself, was celebrated by Beloit yesterday. The actual class day exercises began on the campus at 6 p. m. At noon the annual luncheon attracted scores of the "old uns" back to convocation week and the annual ball game in the afternoon was scarcely less popular. At 5:30 p. m. the campus supper was served. At 8 o'clock the campus fete began and President and Mrs. Eaton gave the seniors a reception at the president's house.

A ball game in the water featured a picnic which Ferdie Roth gave to a number of friends on French Lake yesterday. Besides fishing several varieties of games were participated in.

While fishing yesterday in Rice Lake, T. Grace capsized his boat and had to swim to land. When he reached the shore he was minus his coat and hat and shoes. Mr. Grace did not state whether he was in the act of catching a fish or not when the accident happened.

He hired a motor boat this morning to endeavor to find the lost articles of clothing.

With your blood full of catarrhal infection, nerves all unstrung, blood impoverished, headaches, lassitude, pellagra, hookworm, tape worm, chills and fever, or some other debilitating influence, the very foundation of health is being sapped away by spring humors.

Really flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that blood worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out or experience the peculiar sensations of gas and tenderness in the bowels, go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S. Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

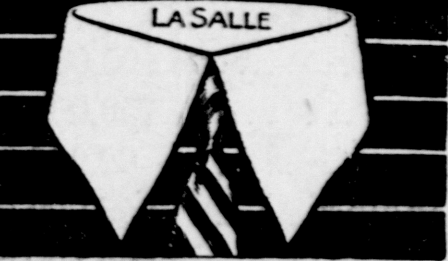

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. MILITANT LEADER'S LIFE THREATENED

Friends of Mrs. Pankhurst
Say Hunger-striking
Has Weakened Her
System

LONDON, June 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst's condition today was most serious, according to officials of the Women's Social and Political Union. Her hunger strikes have weakened her nervous system to a great extent and friends say her life is threatened. She is at a nursing home.

The suffragettes yesterday sent to Holloway jail immediately went on hunger strikes, as they had threatened.

The monster demonstration for woman suffrage, planned by the non-militants which will end June 26 in Hyde park, London, began today when fifty of the peaceful suffragettes started on foot from Newcastle.

Within the week similar detachments of women will start from nearly every city and town in England. They will reach London from four directions on the appointed day and in four long columns will meet in Hyde park.

YESTERDAY'S WORK IN THE LEGISLATURE

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—After a hot fight the assembly engrossed the Kileen bill giving the Milwaukee county board power to pay the circuit judges of Milwaukee county $1,000 in addition to the $5,500 paid by the state.

By a vote of 45 to 21 the assembly killed the Zophy bill giving municipalities the right to establish electric light, telephone and water plants without a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the railroad commission. By a vote of 30 to 24 the assembly refused to engross the O'Connor bill putting all county officers on a salary basis. It passed another bill by Assemblyman O'Connor providing for land mortgage banks. This is a part of the land mortgage system that has just been adopted in Massachusetts and Louisiana.

On motion of Assemblyman Minkley the assembly killed the bill giving the Milwaukee county board power to sell the city's tracks on the viaduct. At the opening of the evening session, Col. E. S. Townsend, ninety-five years old, addressed the assembly on reminiscences of early Wisconsin telling of his attendance at the first territorial legislative session at Belmont in 1826. Col. Townsend came to Wisconsin in 1827 and was a member of the Wisconsin assembly during the Civil war. He has resided at Shullsburg ever since he came to Wisconsin.

As sure to rise as the Sun
You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

KC BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the mixing bowl and in the oven. The raising is sustained until the dough is cooked through.

Housewives who use K.C. never have "bad luck" with their baking. Try K.C. at our risk. Your grocer will refund your money if you are not pleased in every way.

ASSEMBLY KILLS THE ACKLEY BILL

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—Efforts to wipe out material portions of the Baker saloon bill save that which fixes the ratio of saloons to the population were defeated in the assembly today.

CHICKEN TO FEAST THE POULTRYMEN

Chicken Fanciers to Eat and Talk Poultry at a Big Picnic

I've got a chicken on the brain. When I've got a chicken, I never complain.

Chicken chop suey certainly am a treat.

Chicken is the only meat I can eat. Pork chops are good for the morning smile.

But I like chicken in any old style. Song to be sung by the Western Wisconsin Poultry association at its picnic June 29.

Chicken—the feathered kind—will be the chief topic of discussion, gastronomically and linguistically, at the picnic of the Western Wisconsin Poultry association, which will be given Sunday, June 29 at Dressen park.

The first draft of the menu, which was exposed to the light of day by City Comptroller W. J. Fries, in charge of arrangements, today, has a decided hencoop tinge. The start will be made early, and immediately after the arrival at the park, the poultrymen will have breakfast—fried chicken. At noon comes a dinner—roast chicken. In the evening, supper—fricasseed chicken. There will also be trimmings of chicken salad and "sich."

A ball game will be in order, and it is rumored that "fowl" balls will play a large part in the proceedings. Chickens in skirts strictly tabooed.

HENWOOD CASE IN HANDS OF JURY

DENVER, Col., June 18.—The fate of Frank H. Henwood, slayer of Sylvester von Phul and George E. Copeland, will be decided before night. The jury early today began its consideration of evidence and took its first ballot at 7:30 a. m.

The twelve men retired at 10:30 last night after having listened to a most bitter denunciation of the defendant, his lawyers and many of his friends by District Attorney John A. Rush. The prosecutor described Henwood as a liar, a rover, a nomad, a man whose business was an iridescent dream, who lived from his wife's meddlesome busybody in love with the wife of his friend, a parasite who lived of the generosity of John W. Springer, while he sustained illicit relations with the woman in the case.

GIANTS PAY $10,000 FOR RUBE SCHAUER

This is Schauer's first year in organized baseball. He joined Superior as a recruit in the spring, pitched three one-hit games and so far has led the league in strike outs.

STOMACH CANCER CURABLE—MAYO

Noted Physician Says He Has Cured 1,000 Cases by Successful Operations

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 18.—"Cancer of the stomach is curable." Directly in opposition to the accepted opinion of physicians, Dr. W. J. Mayo, Rochester, Minn., made this declaration today at the A. M. A. convention.

Dr. Mayo proved his assertion by citing the histories of 1,000 cases operated on by him which resulted successfully.

He declared that a successful diagnosis of the cancer of the stomach is simple when the history of gastric disturbance preceding the cancer is studied.

Further, Dr. Mayo placed himself in opposition to the united wisdom of the American Medical Association physicians by declaring that involvement of the pancreas does not bar an operation.

He told of cases operated upon where the pancreas was affected yet the operation was a success.

FRIESMUTH PLEADS NOT GUILTY TODAY

Declaring that the cultivator which his son helped him operate in his garden was a small affair weighing less than thirty-five pounds and that his son was not doing the work of a horse, John Friesmuth pleaded not guilty when arraigned before County Judge John Brindley on a charge of cruelty to his 12 year old son Frank today. The trial was set for Friday afternoon.

Friesmuth is a gardener living on the Salem road near the city limits on the North side, and he was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick, who took action on the complaint of neighbors of the gardener.

According to the complaint Friesmuth made his son haul the cultivator in the garden for several weeks, but according to a statement made by the son today, it was more play than work and he did not object to helping his father work in the garden. He said that he was in reality steering the machine which his father pushed and operated.

LETTERS TELL OF SUGAR FIGHT TO CONTROL SOLONS

Hamlin, until recently chairman of the executive committee of the beet sugar producers' association and Washington representative of that interest, read: "Write me fully about your congressman and how he can best be reached. Would get up new petitions not only at Garden City but also at Sylvia and other places. Also have as many letters sent as possible. Letters to your new congressman from substantial democrats very desirable."

Would Buy Paper

The correspondence indicated that the moving spirit in the organization and the prime mover in an attempt to purchase an interest in the Chicago Inter-Ocean so sugar beet men would have an organ that would specialize in their kind of news, was Charles B. Warren, president of the Michigan Beet Sugar company.

The letters, which were delivered inadvertently to the committee by Harry A. Austin, clerk to Truman G. Palmer, secretary of the association, comprise the "private and personal" correspondence of C. C. Hamlin, chairman of the executive committee of the beet sugar men's association, to beet sugar manufacturers over a period extending from 1911 to the present time. In most cases the answers to these letters are also in the files.

One disclosure in the letters read today was that Henry T. Oxnard was relieved of his duties as an officer of the Beet Sugar Men's association, so "that he might do better work outside." The correspondence showed that many discussions were also held through the mails and the powers in the sugar men's association finally decided that C. C. Hamlin, nephew of Senator Clark of Wyoming, would make the best Washington representative because of his excellent connections here.

Despite Yerkes' protests the committee read several more letters. One was a communication dated May 2, 1912, addressed to Sidney Ballou, Washington sugar representative. It was a carbon copy and unsigned and detailed that speeches by Congressmen were being sent out. The letters ter asserted that for $2,500 a month the sugar people were getting 50,000 lines of news printed every month.

"I believe our greatest opportunity for publicity will have arrived in connection with the national campaign," the letter stated. "The republican party will of necessity be compelled to make the tariff the issue. We are in touch with those making the republican campaign boom and the sugar question will be handled subject to our approval. As soon as the conventions are over we propose to get into touch with campaign managers, with a view to having speakers fully informed on the sugar question."

FIRE IN STRAW BARN THREATENS FRAMES

A fire which started from an unknown cause threatened to destroy several tons of baled hay in the barn of the Arctic Ice and Fuel company this afternoon, and for a time threatened the surrounding frame buildings. The fire started at 2:45, employees of the company noticing columns of smoke escape from different parts of the building. Fire department No. 2 worked until 4 o'clock to extinguish it.

ILLINOIS SUFFRAGISTS PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR FULL FRANCHISE; THEY'LL BE FACTOR IN NEXT PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, ANYWAY

Flushed with their recent success in the Illinois legislature, which granted them the right to vote for presidential electors and all municipal and some state officers, the suffragist leaders of Illinois plan an early campaign for the full franchise. In order to secure this, an amendment to the constitution will be necessary.

The women who were most instrumental in securing semi-suffrage and who probably will be the leaders in the next campaign are Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association; Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk, Chicago woman lawyer.

I give you, absolutely free, the identical prescription which has made me so happy by beautifying my hands and arms. You can form no idea of the marvelous change it will make in just one application. The prescription, which can be prepared at your own home, is as follows:

Go to any drug store and get an ounce bottle of Kulux Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, add a quarter ounce of witch hazel and fill with water. Mix this at home. Apply night and morning. The first application will delight you. It gives the skin a velvety softness, obliterates all discolorations such as tan, sun spots, freckles and coarse pores, roughness, and, in fact, every blemish the skin is heir to. It also produces a marvelous effect on the face, neck and shoulders. It is deliciously cool and soothing and is not affected by perspiration. It will not rub off.

If the neck is discolored from being exposed to the sun or from wearing high collars, this prescription will immediately relieve that condition. No matter how rough and un-fairly the hands and arms, or what abuses they have had through hard work; no matter what exposure the skin has had to sun and wind, this prescription will work a wonderful transformation. Thousands of women are using this prescription with just the same results that I have had."

Y. W. C. A. CAMP OPENS SATURDAY

Summer Colony of Local Association to Go Into Camp at Riverside on June 21

MISS BERTHA HOEFKE IN CHARGE

Popular Member to Preside Over Destinies of the Summer Camp Again This Season

The summer camp of the Y. W. C. A., an institution which proved extremely popular with the members of the association last year, will be opened on Saturday, June 21.

This was the announcement today of Miss Bertha Hoefke, who is again in charge of the camp. The camp will be held at Riverside camp, the accessibility of which makes it an ideal spot for a summer camp. Being but a twenty minute ride from the city, it is thus possible for members who cannot remain at the camp during the day to spend the evenings there, going to and from the city by means of the Riverside launch which makes two trips daily.

The Y. W. campers will occupy the same cottage as last year, besides which there has also been secured a houseboat, thus making it possible to accommodate many more girls at one time than was possible last year, and also to make greater returns for their expenditures. The rates at the camp are extremely moderate, barely covering the cost.

"Please urge upon those planning to avail themselves of the camp," said Miss Hoefke today, "the importance of making their reservations. As far as possible, we would like to have the girls let us know at what time they would like to come to the camp, as this will make it easier for us and also avoid confusion. Information as to rates, etc., may be secured by calling the Y. W. C. A."

Special arrangements are being made for the recreation end of the camp. Miss Maude Neprud having consented to take charge of this department for at least a part of the season. Boating, swimming and various outdoor and indoor games furnish the amusement at the camp, while others, less strenuously inclined, devote their time to reading and resting. Miss Amanda Clement, physical director of the Y. W. C. A., will spend the week ends at the camp and as much more of her time as can be spared from her playground work.

RUSHFORD MINN

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth McLeod, in Brooklyn, last Saturday afternoon, a gathering of about forty-five enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. McLeod and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Chapelle, who helped entertain. Also, Mrs. Will Brunner led the devotional exercises, the home topic being, Alaska, and the foreign topic, Japan and China. Business discussions occupied about an hour afterwards, following which Mrs. Bantly gave her report of the Atlanta, Ga., Presbyterian general assembly, which Rev. Bantly and herself attended in May. This report was most graphic and comprehensive and one had but to close their eyes during the reading to believe themselves in the immense building. After the report, a most delicious lap-luncheon was served, the guests leaving for their homes soon after.

Miss Althea Gorden of Houston and Miss Chapple of Money Creek, have been the guests of the Kenneth McLeod home in Brooklyn.

Mrs. L. L. Streeter is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Gynther Overland of Bratsberg.

Miss Hattiestad of Cottonwood, Minn., is the guest of friends here. Mrs. Pierce, the mother of Mrs. Ed Fenstermacher, left Tuesday for Dubuque, Iowa, to attend the graduating exercises of the schools, her niece, Agnes Berg, being one of those who finish school.

Mrs. W. W. Beers, who has been making an extended visit with friends in Michigan and Illinois, has returned to her home in this city.

Mrs. Nellie Shattuck of Amherst, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Johnson, residing west of this city.

Miss Knudson of Amherst, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Will Brunner, who live northeast of this city.

Children's day exercises were held as planned some weeks ago at the Presbyterian church in this city last Sunday morning. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Bantly, the whole church had been transformed into a dainty and fragrant bower of delicate ferns, roses peonies and trailing vines, among which various caged birds lifted up their voices in sweet rivalry of the children. To Mrs. Bantly, our pastor's wife, belongs a most hearty vote of thanks for her unflagging enthusiasm and patience in drilling the children in their various parts as she had full charge of the work. The church choir, assisted by an octette of younger voices, rendered beautiful music. Rev. Bantly gave a short talk but the rest of the program was in charge of the children. A special collection was taken for the organization of Sunday schools in those isolated districts where that work has been retarded by lack of funds.

Mrs. Styrk Thompson Gjerness, one of Rushford's oldest pioneers, passed peacefully away at her home in this city, Saturday, May 14th. Her death being due to the infirmities of her advanced age, which was ninety-one years.

Mrs. Dan Chisholm of Dakota, Minn., who has been the guest of her many friends and relatives around here, has returned to her home in

The only toasted corn flakes that can be kept—provided the "kiddies" will let you

You know—and I know—and we all know that toasted corn flakes, when fresh, are delicious; as good for you as they are appetizing and palatable.

But toasted corn flakes are neither appetizing or palatable when they are stale. The box of toasted corn flakes that is "cut open" and stands on the pantry shelf absorbing dryness or moisture in a changeable climate, quickly becomes unpalatable and consequently wasteful.

You can open the round package of "Silver Flake" Toasted corn flakes then replace the air-tight lid and use the remainder at intervals to suit your family tastes—always sure that the last serving will be as good as the first.

That's an Advantage!

—indeed so, and one that you'll not find in any other toasted corn flake package on the market. We believe our round, air-tight package to be the final solution of the problem of conveying delicious toasted corn flakes from a cleanly factory to every prudent housewife's table.

Arthur Halverson, of Peterson, met with an accident which may yet prove fatal. While riding at a very high rate of speed, he in some way collided with some obstacle and was thrown to the ground, striking upon his forehead, which was found to be badly fractured, when bystanders rushed to his aid. He was unconscious when carried to the physician's office and upon the physician's advice, was taken down to a La Crosse hospital. The outcome is still dubious as it is feared concussion of the brain is the trouble. This should be a warning to all those who have been in the habit of speeding, regardless of the safety of themselves or of the public.

Mr. L. A. Gullikson returned to his home here Tuesday, after a two weeks' stay in the neighboring town of Lewiston.

The Peterson Herald is once more in charge of its old time editor, Carl Smaby, who took possession of the paper last week. Mr. Smaby is an old hand at the work and if pluck, perseverance and a sharp "scent" for news counts for aught, and makes a good paper, the Herald's success is assured.

Our city stands in great danger of losing one of its largest and best enterprises, the woolen mill, as a result of being unable to secure the necessary number of girls to carry on the various stages of the work. Mr. W. W. Webster, the proprietor and manager, tells us that unless more help can be secured very soon, he will be compelled to move to some other city where aid can be secured. This is a condition of things that should make us "sit up and take notice," since we can ill afford to lose the mills, which are furnishing employment to twenty-two people and each day drawing in trade from a territory many miles in extent. Work in the factory is both honorable and remunerative and it seems strange that there should be such a lack of aid.

Miss Hilma Thompson has had as her guest, Miss Lillian DeVilliers of Lanesboro.

Word has been received in this city of the recent death of Rev.

Prichard, a former well known pastor of Emmanuel church, of Rushford.

Mrs. Lela Nevitt and children of Raymond, Wash., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Tagland, Mrs. Nevitt's parents.

Miss Alma Reishus of Nome, N. D., and a former Rushford girl, is the guest of her numerous relatives and friends in and around this city.

Miss Bertha Highum is here as a guest of her relatives. She has been spending the past winter in Hettin-

Come In, The Water's Fine

Your youngsters will say to each other if you have a fine big bathtub. Let us put one in for you and no more coaxing will be needed to make the young ones take a bath.

We'll Attend to the Plumbing so that it will be safe and sanitary. The children can stay all day and run no risk of foul gases or health destroying germs. Have us give you an estimate of the cost of such a tub. Our ideas are probably lower than yours.
